

HEAVY VEHICLE LICENCES: GENERAL INFORMATION

RTO PARTNERSHIP

AJL Training have partnered with Wodonga Institute of TAFE (RTO no.3097) to provide training and assessment for Heavy Vehicle Licences.

National Heavy Vehicle Driver Competency Framework

From 22 March 2017, Tasmania implemented the National Heavy Vehicle Driver Competency Framework which sets the national standards for competency and assessment of heavy vehicle drivers. Accredited Heavy Vehicle External Service Providers apply these standards in all competency assessments.

The National Framework provides a nationally consistent approach for heavy vehicle driver licensing. This involves introducing a common set of national requirements that will be applied to the issuing of a national heavy vehicle driver licence and developing a competency and assessment framework.

The new standards enhance the safe driving of heavy vehicles by having a quality and rigorous national assessment and simplifies recognition of assessment practices throughout Australia.

More information regarding Heavy Vehicle Licences can be found in the Tasmanian Heavy Vehicle Drivers' Handbook \(PDF 4.5MB\).

To progress beyond being a heavy vehicle learner driver a person must:

- meet the eligibility criteria refer to Licence Class Progression Requirements
- successfully undertake a competency test or complete an approved training course and final competency assessment.

To book a competency test or training and the final competency assessment:

- ensure you meet the eligibility criteria refer to Licence Class Progression Requirements
- successfully pass a heavy vehicle road rules knowledge test prior to appointment (valid 6 months from date passed) and if required a heavy vehicle learner licence refer to Licence Class Progression Requirements

Following the test:

You need to undertake the following through Service Tasmania offices:

- provide your current driver licence - Full/Provisional, plus current heavy vehicle learner licence (where applicable)
